

Protecting RAF aircrew against chemical warfare

New aircrew 'Noddy' suits give protection for 24 hours.

Leather flying gloves with butyl rubber and cotton undergloves.

Head mask sealed at neck.

Polycarbonate faceplate improves vision.

Nerve agent antidote kit.

Silicone impregnated nylon undergarment repels chemicals.
Activated charcoal filters nerve and mustard gas.

Portable air pump used outside aircraft.

Chemical agent monitor detects traces of nerve gas and blister agents.

