

Gourmet delights

Business lunches in China can prove a disconcerting gastronomic experience for the Western palate. This is what you may find on the menu

*Snake soup, maggot quiche bleached sandworms,
deep fried whale blubber*

The pangolin is now off the menu as it has become an endangered species

Dog stew, dog crackling, kimchi (pickled fermented cabbage), spiders, sharks fins, bird's nests and, until recently, the pangolin
