

The first supersonic Olympic flame

1. After being lit at the Temple of Hera on Mount Olympus, Greece, the Olympic flame makes a supersonic journey from Athens to Paris aboard Concorde

2. The torch is carried in relay by 5,000 runners. Each runner covers 1 kilometre. There are 57 overnight resting places throughout France and Corsica

The flame will burn in three locations: Albertville, Val d'Iser and Courchevel

ALBERTVILLE 92

3. The torch arrives in Albertville on February 8th
