

What Europe spends to stay healthy

Health care reform is one of Europe's biggest challenges. Holland and Sweden are trying to introduce more competition, Germany is struggling to reduce costs and unify two different health-care systems. In Britain 7 million people are now paying for private health-care

