

U.N. peace-keepers for Yugoslavia

The U.N. Protection Force (UNPROFOR) is comprised of 12 enlarged infantry battalions totalling 10,400 officers and men, assisted by support units. Most of the force will be deployed in U.N. protected areas in Croatia which have large Serbian populations. The annual cost of the 14,000-member force, including observers, is estimated at over $600 million

April 11

Four battalions deployed from Belgium/Luxembourg, Canada, Denmark and France

April 18

Three battalions from Russia, Poland, and Czechoslovakia

April 25

One battalion from Nepal

Mid-May

Four battalions from Argentina, Jordan, Kenya and Nigeria

