

Mujahideen poised to control Afghanistan

Rival mujahideen forces, who now hold all major cities bar Kabul, are fighting for the capital. Masood last week captured the strategic Bagram air base 35 miles north of the city. Hekmatyar has bombarded the city with mortar shells stuffed with propaganda demanding total surrender by April 26

Controlled by Ahmad Shah Masood
Controlled by Gulbuddin Hekmatyar