

Donington welcomes back the big guns

European Grand Prix, Donington Park, April 11

The first of Britain's two Formula 1 events in 1993 sees Donington Park host its first Grand Prix in more than fifty years. The 2.5 mile Leicestershire circuit was left derelict after war-time service as a military vehicle depot before re-opening for racing in 1977

