

Europe – the greying of a continent

At the turn of the century one in twenty people was aged 60 or over – in the 'third age'. Today it is one in seven and by the year 2025 it will be one in four. Improved life expectancy and lower birth rates are placing an increased tax burden on those in work

% of population over 60 years

1950

2025

