

THE SUPERCARS World's fastest production cars

The supercars are back. The high-priced, high-performance 200mph-plus road cars which symbolized the end of the booming 1980s now represent emergence from world recession, with the battle between top motor manufacturers to produce the ultimate production car as fierce as ever

Engine: 4.5-litre, 60-valve V12, 500bhp

Detachable roof

Ferrari F130 Barchetta

Top speed: claimed to be 220mph

Due to make its debut 1994

Price: up to £300,000

Carbon fibre monocoque body – kerb weight 970kg

Engine: 3.5-litre, V12 twin turbo, 542bhp

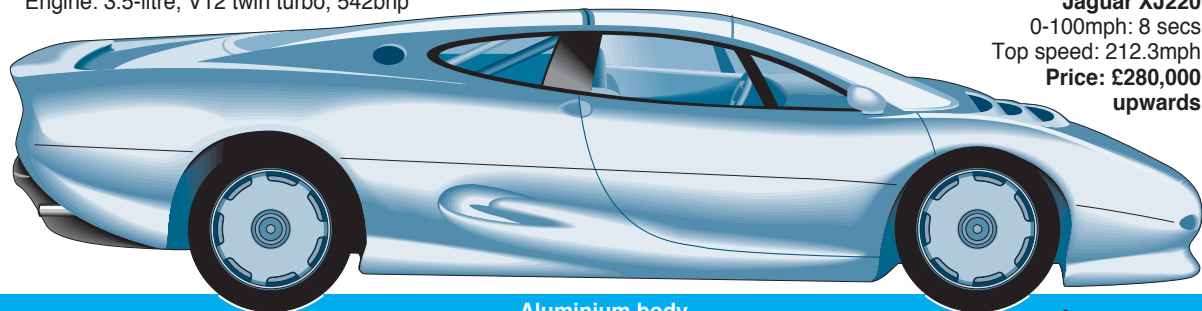

Jaguar XJ220

0-100mph: 8 secs

Top speed: 212.3mph

Price: £280,000

upwards

Aluminium body

Honda NSX

0-60mph: 5.9 secs

Top speed: 167mph

Price: £57,000

Engine: 3-litre, 24-valve V6,

270bhp

Bugatti EB110

0-60mph: 3.4 secs

Top speed: 217mph

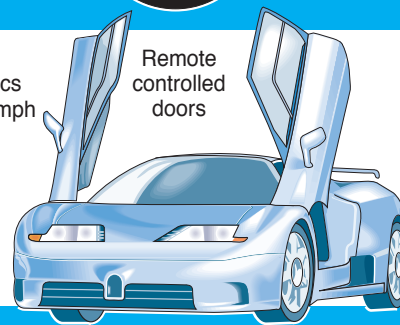

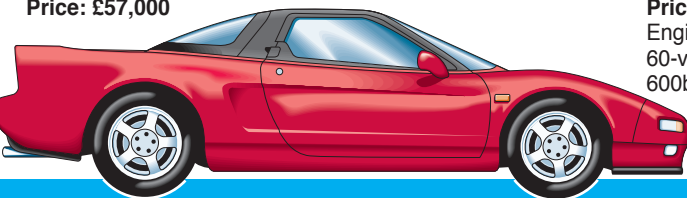

Price: £304,000

Engine: 3.5-litre,

60-valve V12,

600bhp

Remote controlled doors

Lamborghini 'Lightweight' Diablo

0-60mph in 4.0 seconds

Top speed above 207mph

Engine: 5.7-litre, 525bhp

Price: £175,000

Wheels cast from magnesium –
18-inch rear wheels

Ultra-light
carbon fibre body
cuts kerb weight
to 1,450kg

Other supercars on sale in Europe...

Model	Top speed/0-60mph	Price	Model	Top speed/0-60mph	Price
Ferrari 512TR	195mph / 4.8 secs	£124,755	Porsche 928GTS	170mph / 5.7 secs	£69,875
Aston Martin Vantage	186mph / 4.6 secs	£177,600	Lotus Sport 300	162mph / 4.5 secs	£64,995
Porsche 911 Turbo 3.6	171mph / 4.6 secs	£80,500	Maserati Shamal	168mph / 5.3 secs	£58,200
Ferrari 348TB	172mph / 5.4 secs	£73,878			