

Suspect gas attack

At least 90 people were rushed to hospital complaining of stinging eyes after a 'suspicious smell' was reported in train and subway stations in Yokohama, a crowded commercial port city adjacent to Tokyo. Japan has been on alert since a poison gas attack on Tokyo's subways last month killed 12 people and injured 5,500

