

Euro 96 venues

The 1996 European Championship is the first major international football tournament to be held in England for 30 years. Eight grounds will be used to stage the competition as England seek to recapture the glory days of their 1966 World Cup triumph

UEFA
EURO 96
England

Old Trafford (Manchester United F.C.)

Capacity: 43,000 (minimum)

Group matches: June 9, 16, 19

Quarter-final: June 23

Semi-final: June 26

Anfield (Liverpool F.C.)

Capacity: 41,000

Group matches: June 11, 14, 19

Quarter-final: June 22

Villa Park (Aston Villa F.C.)

Capacity: 39,000

Group matches: June 10, 13, 18

Quarter-final: June 23

Wembley Stadium Capacity: 76,000

Group matches: June 8, 15, 18

Quarter-final: June 22 Semi-final: June 26

Final: June 30

St. James' Park
(Newcastle United F.C.)

Capacity: 35,000

Matches: June 10, 13, 18

Elland Road
(Leeds United F.C.)

Capacity: 39,000

Matches: June 9, 15, 18

Hillsborough
(Sheffield Wednesday F.C.)

Capacity: 40,000

Matches: June 9, 16, 19

The City Ground
(Nottingham Forest F.C.)

Capacity: 30,500

Matches: June 11, 14, 19