

The cold shoulder

Giving someone the cold shoulder means showing your dislike by ignoring him or being unfriendly. In days of old, when knights were not only bold but obliged to be chivalrous, especially to fellow knights, a visiting 'Sir' outstaying his welcome might get a hint in the form of a meal usually reserved for servants, namely a cold shoulder of mutton