Red faces over Euro banknotes blunder

The design of the Euro banknotes is in doubt after five of the seven bridges pictured on the notes were identified as real from illustrations in a book. Two are located in France, with one each in India, Italy and Spain. The designers were specifically briefed to avoid any image likely to arouse national rivalries.

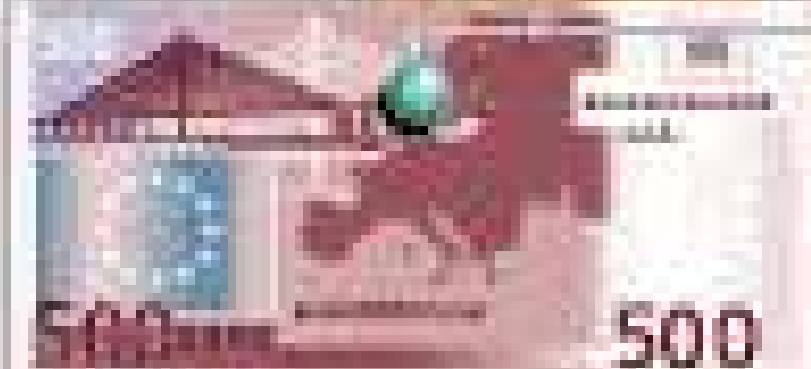
Indian pontoon bridge.
Man in kaftan on original engraving hidden behind map of Europe

10 Euros
Aqueduct, Segovia

50

50 Euros
Pont du Gard, Provence

500 Euros
Pont de Normandie, Le Havre



500

500

Tower Bridge, London, UK (appears on £10 note)