

Alcopop study

Research on why youngsters drink alcopops is to be presented at the first national conference on underage drinking today. Alcopop sales now top £250m a year, with Bass-owned Hooch – which has about 70% of the market – selling three million cans a week

Percent

