

This Adobe Acrobat document contains a proof of the tabloid page obituary on the Queen Mother

Files available in ROYALTY conference within EDITORIAL ART in SPECIAL COLLECTION

Filename: GN4762/63 Queen Mother

N.B. The dates in the following caption must be completed by you:

Lady Elizabeth
Bowes-Lyon
Queen Elizabeth
The Queen Mother
1900-199X

THE '1900-199X' DATES WILL HAVE TO BE UPDATED BEFORE YOU PUBLISH THIS FILE!

TechTalk: File size is around 18Mb so resolution will be maintained at 150 lines per inch, magazine quality printing – it is compressed to around 1.8Mb on the bulletin board.

The file is an Adobe Illustrator file with one EPS photomontage. The file uses Adobe's EPS JPEG compression system.

There is a 'EPS JPEG / Read Me!' file included in the folder with the Adobe Photoshop plug-in module. The instructions in this document should be followed before you attempt to open the Illustrator file – if not you may lose the EPS pathways within the file and the photomontage will fail to preview or print.

Other images: The two photomontages GN5140 (P) Queen Mother #1 and GN5141 (P) Queen Mother #2 have also been resampled to retain high resolution. Visuals of these appear at the end of this Acrobat document.

If you have any queries please contact Duncan Mil at the London studio on:
+44 171 722 4673
(0171 722 4673 within the UK)

G R A P H I C N E W S

Utopia Village, 7 Chalcot Road, London NW18LH, England. Telephone: +44 (0)171 722 4673

VISUAL ONLY - READ NOTES ATTACHED

A life that spanned the 20th century

Born on August 4, 1900, Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon married the Duke of York, younger son of King George V, in 1923, and became Queen on the abdication of Edward VIII in 1936.

She remained one of the most enduringly popular royals at a time when the monarchy itself was coming under increasing scrutiny.

Earls of Strathmore and Kinghorne

Photographic: Rappaport

Right: After Buckingham Palace was bombed in 1940 the Queen said 'I'm almost comforted that we've been hit. It makes me feel I can look the East End in the face.' She and the King made numerous visits to inspect bomb damage in London during the blitz.

Asked if the princesses would leave London during the war, the Queen replied that they would not leave without her, she would not leave without the King, and he would never leave.

Above: The Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon in 1923, the year of their marriage. Above right: A 1939 portrait of the Queen with Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret

House of Windsor - the Queen Mother's descendants

Filename: GN5140 (P) Queen Mother #1

Filename: GN5141 (P) Queen Mother #2