

AS THE TITANIC sets sail for another maiden voyage across the silver screen, see how many of these seafarin' films you can remember

Be warned – danger and disaster lurk both above and below the waves and a single wrong move could lead to a watery grave

1: Roy Scheider and Richard Dreyfuss play the leads in this tale of man against Great White shark. Easy one first, name the film, and how many sequels were there?

2: Stiff upper lip for this Brit arranging the deckchairs on the Titanic. Who is the actor and what is the movie?

3: There's something down there and its waiting for you. What is it and what is the movie?

4: He's battled dinosaurs and part-timed as the son of the Devil. Name the actor, his co-star and the film?

5: Steven Seagal regains control of the ship after a hijack. What else does he do on board and what was the film?

6: Quite a New Year's party aboard the Poseidon that year, but what happened to the ship and who played the reverend who became leader of the survivors?

7: First a bus and now a boat – clearly Sandra Bullock and public transport don't mix. Name the movie and her co-star

8: Another version of the 'ship hits iceberg' scenario – can you name the male actor better known as one half of Hart to Hart

9: Adrift at sea after being bombed out of the water. Can you name the movie and the actress pictured
