

Titanic trip live on TV

TV viewers will be able to visit the wreck of the Titanic more than 2.5 miles below the ocean surface when Discovery Channel broadcasts live pictures of a robot undersea-vehicle exploring parts of the interior of the doomed luxury liner. A second expedition will enable day-trippers to descend to the wreck in two Russian submersibles – at a cost of $32,500 per ticket

