

Mars failure report

The loss of the Mars Polar Lander spacecraft last December was likely caused by a premature rocket engine shutdown, but the core reason for the botched mission was NASA trying to do too much with too little, according to an independent investigation

Mars Polar Lander

Cost: $165m
Launched: Jan 3, 1999
Lost: Dec 3

