

Israeli withdrawal from Lebanon complete

Israel's army has left south Lebanon, ending a 22-year occupation that cost 900 Israeli lives. Israel first deployed in south Lebanon in 1978, mounted a wide-scale invasion in 1982 and pulled back in 1985, setting up a border "security zone" patrolled by Israeli troops and their South Lebanon Army militia allies

