

New species of dinosaur discovered

The partial skeleton of a massive sauropod – unearthed at an Egyptian site that its discoverers call “dinosaur heaven” – is one of the largest dinosaurs ever found. Paralititan stromeri, which dates from the Late Cretaceous period, measured up to 30.5 metres long and weighed some 68-90 tonnes

