

Israel-Lebanon water dispute grows

A disagreement between Lebanon and its neighbour Israel over a vital water supply could spiral into armed conflict. Lebanon's new drinking water project will take an extra two million cubic metres from the River Hasbani, which flows into the Sea of Galilee – Israel's main source of drinking water

