

Red Sea disaster

An Egyptian cruise ship with 1,300 passengers and 100 crew has sunk in the Red Sea off the coast of Saudi Arabia. The Salaam 98 disappeared from radar screens shortly after it left the Saudi port of Dubah en route to Safaga in Egypt

Friday: Helicopters spot bodies floating on sea and one lifeboat carrying three people

RED SEA

Picture: El-Salaam
Maritime Transport Co

© GRAPHIC NEWS