

Indonesian volcano threatens thousands

Thousands of people are set to be evacuated after Mount Merapi in Java started spewing clouds of smoke and lava. Merapi is one of the most active of at least 129 volcanoes in Indonesia – it erupted in 1930, killing 1,300 people, while in 1994 super-heated pyroclastic flows killed 60 people

