

Saturday, May 20

ON THIS DAY

▲ 2004: Marwan Barghout, secretary-general of the Palestinian Fatah movement, was found guilty of five murders in Israel and the West Bank and given five life sentences

1895: Income Tax was declared unconstitutional in the United States

1998: Indonesia's President Suharto stepped down after 30 years in power following weeks of civil unrest

2004: A record crowd of 79,344 saw five-time world champions Brazil and 1998 World Cup winners France play a match in Paris marking 100 years of the international football association, Fifa. The match ended in a 0-0 draw