

Battle of the broadcasters

The popular but controversial Arabic TV station Al-Jazeera is launching its first English-language news channel. Al-Jazeera International will be joined by France 24, a new state-supported French service, to challenge the predominance of CNN and BBC – the two chief satellite news channels

