

Disaster donations reach record level

In 2005, emergency aid reached more than $17.5 billion – the highest figure since records began in 1970 – according to the World Disasters Report. But while high-profile cases such as the Indian Ocean tsunami attracted enormous contributions, countless other crises were neglected

Aid per beneficiary

Requirements Contributions

