

Storms ravage northern Europe

Violent storms lashing northern Europe have claimed at least 36 lives as high winds sent debris flying and brought down trees and power lines. The winds are expected to weaken once they reach Ukraine and Russia

United Kingdom:
Winds of 160km/h,
13 people killed

Netherlands:
Winds of 130km/h,
rail system badly
affected, 4 killed

Germany:
Winds of 190km/h, rail
system shut down, Frankfurt airport cancels half its flights, 10 killed

Poland: 4 people killed

Czech Rep: Winds of 184km/h, 3 killed

Russia

Ireland: Flights cancelled

France: 2 killed

Austria: 20,000
households lose electricity

Ukraine: Flow of Russian oil suspended
after storm knocks out power to pumping station

Hungary: Most savage weather expected Friday