

Iraqi refugees

The United Nations says that the 3.4 million Iraqis fleeing from violence to neighbouring countries is the Middle East's largest long-term population movement since the displacement of Palestinians when Israel was created in 1948. The number is increasing by 40,000 every month

Iraq refugees

