

Noisy England

Newcastle is the noisiest urban area in England, with residents facing severe hearing and health problems, according to a new report by University College London. The city topped a traffic noise table with 80.4 decibels, the equivalent of a loud alarm clock constantly ringing in your ear

