

Oscar nominees – Best Film

2

1 The Queen: The British royalty drama is Miramax Films' first Best Picture nod since its founders, Bob and Harvey Weinstein, parted ways with Miramax in 2005. Nominations: 6

2 The Departed: Martin Scorsese's blood-drenched cop-drama reflects a world so mangled by corruption that neither police nor government can be trusted. Nominations: 5

3 Letters From Iwo Jima: Clint Eastwood's sympathetic Japanese-language film about the historic World War II battle, shown from the Japanese perspective. Nominations: 4

4 Babel: Interwoven storylines unfold across four countries, showing how lives unexpectedly link in a shrinking global village. Directed by Alejandro González Iñárritu. Nominations: 7

5 Little Miss Sunshine: It only cost $8 million to make but this helter-skelter family comedy has captured hearts and is a strong contender for Oscar honours. Nominations: 4
