

Warning of bad hurricane season

Forecasters are predicting an exceptionally active 2007 Atlantic hurricane season with at least 17 named storms during the June-to-November season. Nine will reach hurricane force and five will become major hurricanes with winds of 111mph or greater

