

Foot and mouth inquiry focuses on lab

A government-run animal health laboratory and a U.S.-French pharmaceutical company are at the heart of an investigation by British authorities trying to find the source of an outbreak of highly infectious foot and mouth disease at a Surrey farm

Institute for Animal Health and Merial Animal Health Laboratories, Pirbright

