

Quake rocks Sumatra

A 7.9-magnitude earthquake has struck the Indonesian island of Sumatra, triggering tsunami alerts across the Indian Ocean.

Inhabitants fled swaying buildings as far away as the capital, Jakarta, and Singapore

Bengkulu, 18:10 : Epicentre 100km off coast, 15km below surface