

Mexico floods affect one million people

A massive rescue operation is under way in the southern Mexican state of Tabasco after rains caused the worst flooding there in more than 50 years

Tabasco: 70% of state is under water, 300,000 people trapped in their homes

