

Boeing and Airbus sales hit new heights

Boeing and Airbus have set an industry record of 2,617 commercial plane orders in 2007, smashing the previous best of 2,057 net orders in 2005. The tally marks the third year of booming sales following a resurgence in air travel after the 9/11 attacks on America

Note: Boeing provides net sales figures while Airbus provides gross. However, the 2005 Airbus figure has been adjusted to a net value by factoring in cancellations and conversions to different models
