

Flaws in Kenya's presidential poll

Observers noted serious flaws in the tallying of Kenya's presidential election. In a third of 210 constituencies differences exist between initial local results and the official count reported three days later, while several constituencies failed to supply supporting documentation

Official result (Electoral Commission of Kenya – ECK)

How Kibaki's tally changed (Dec 27-30)

1. Malu Rift Valley

2. Maragua Central province

Official turnout: 115% – later reduced by ECK to 85%

3. Imenti North Eastern province

4. Kiene Nairobi province

5. Juja Eastern province

6. Changamwe Coast province

Local result for Odinga: 28,340 – later reduced by ECK to 17,706
