

Death toll climbs in South Africa violence

The number of people killed by a wave of anti-immigrant attacks has risen to 56, with more than 650 injured and as many as 100,000 displaced over the past two weeks. Of South Africa's estimated five million immigrants some three million have fled the crisis in Zimbabwe

1 Johannesburg: Red Cross caring for 25,000 destitute people

2 Mozambique: 26,000 refugees have crossed border

3 Durban: Protest marches, several hundred Mozambicans attacked

4 Cape Town: 10,000 immigrants sheltering at community centres