

Thailand and Cambodia in border dispute

Thailand and Cambodia are locked in a military standoff around the ruins of an 11th century Hindu temple at Preah Vihear, recently granted UN World Heritage status. The International Court of Justice ruled in 1962 that the temple belongs to Cambodia, but surrounding land remains in dispute

