

Friday, November 14

ON THIS DAY

▲ 2007: Eurostar trains switched to the fully-renovated St Pancras International station in London, the new high-speed line taking just two hours and 15 minutes to reach Paris

1533: Spanish forces under Pizarro captured the Inca capital, Cusco

1918: Tomas Masaryk was elected first president of Czechoslovakia

1948: Prince Charles, eldest son and heir of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, was born. He marks his 60th birthday today

2007: Denmark's liberal-conservative government under premier Anders Fogh Rasmussen won a third term in office in parliamentary elections