

Obama's cabinet most diverse in history

President-elect Barack Obama has assembled the most ethnically diverse cabinet in American history. Of his nominees, fewer than half are white men – three are Latino, four are black and two are Asian-American

Hillary Clinton	Timothy Geithner	Robert Gates	Eric Holder	Ken Salazar
State	Treasury	Defense	Attorney General	Interior

Tom Vilsack	Bill Richardson	Hilda Solis	Tom Daschle	Arne Duncan
Agriculture	Commerce	Labor	Health/Human Services	Education

Shaun Donovan	Ray LaHood	Steven Chu	Eric Shinseki	Janet Napolitano
Housing/Urban Development	Transportation	Energy	Veterans Affairs	Homeland Security
CABINET RANK MEMBERS Includes Vice President Joe Biden (not shown)

Rahm Emanuel	Lisa Jackson	Peter Orszag	To be confirmed	Ron Kirk
Chief of Staff	EPA Director	Budget Director	ONDCP Director	U.S. Trade Representative

				Susan Rice
				Ambassador to UN

EPA = Environmental Protection Agency, ONDCP = Office of National Drug Control Policy