

Corus factfile

Corus, Europe's second-largest steelmaker, is to axe 3,500 jobs with the majority coming in the UK.

The company, which was acquired by India's Tata Steel in 2007, wants to reduce costs by £350 million and cut production by 30%

corus

CEO:	Kirby Adams
------	-------------

Revenue 2007/08:	£12 billion
------------------	-------------

Steel production:	20 million tonnes
-------------------	-------------------

Global workforce:	41,900
-------------------	--------

UK:	24,300
-----	--------

Netherlands:	11,700
--------------	--------

Germany:	1,700
----------	-------

Other countries:	4,200
------------------	-------

Main production sites:	Port Talbot, Rotherham, Scunthorpe, Stocksbridge, (UK); IJmuiden (Netherlands)
------------------------	--