

Aftershocks rock Italy

A powerful aftershock has hit the historic mountain city of L'Aquila nearly two days after a major quake killed at least 235 people, destroyed over 10,000 buildings and left an estimated 20,000 homeless

