

Iraq's new oilfields

Iraq's first new oilfields in three decades are about to go on stream

Tawke field: New pipeline will carry 60,000 barrels a day to Zakho to join main northern pipeline into Turkey

Taq-Taq field: Road tankers to carry 40,000 b/d from Taq-Taq to Khurmala, from where it will be pumped to Baiji and into pipeline into Turkey. New fields could produce 1 million b/d by end of 2012, giving Iraq's Kurds control of 42% of Iraq's oil production
