

Last 10 Wimbledon Ladies' Finals

1999
Lindsay Davenport USA bt
Steffi Graf GER
6-4, 7-5

● Davenport's Delight:
On the back of a U.S. Open title, Davenport clinches Wimbledon – defeating seven-time winner Graf in her final major appearance

2000
Venus Williams USA bt
Lindsay Davenport USA
6-3, 7-6

● Enter Miss Williams:
After victory over her sister in the semi-finals, Venus Williams seals her first Grand Slam title with a confident display against Davenport

2001
Venus Williams USA bt
Justine Henin BEL
6-1, 3-6, 6-0

● Take Two for Venus:
Williams in the final once more, and in spite of a rain delay she seals her second title in a row with a powerful serve and volley game

2002
Serena Williams USA bt
Venus Williams USA
7-6, 6-3

● Sister Act:
In their first meeting in a Wimbledon final, Serena's dominance propels her to victory – going on to clinch a Grand Slam quadruple

2003
Serena Williams USA bt
Venus Williams USA
4-6, 6-4, 6-2

● Serena's Double:
Both players come into the final hampered by injury but Serena wins through with a gutsy display – serving out for victory in the third set

2004
Maria Sharapova RUS bt
Serena Williams USA
6-1, 6-4

● Third-youngest Winner:
Aged just 17 and up against a six-time Grand Slam winner, Sharapova produces an impressive display to clinch her first Grand Slam title

2005
Venus Williams USA bt
Lindsay Davenport USA
4-6, 7-6, 9-7

● Epic Encounter:
In the longest ever women's final – 2 hrs 45 mins – Venus clinches a hat-trick of titles with a hard-fought victory against the world number one

2006
Amelie Mauresmo FRA bt
Justine Henin BEL
2-6, 6-3, 6-4

● French Revolution:
After a tense first set against a woman looking to win all four Grand Slams, Mauresmo turns on the style to seal her first title at Wimbledon

2007
Venus Williams USA bt
Marion Bartoli FRA
6-4, 6-1

● Quality Shines Through:
After a tight opening set, number 23 seed Venus powers to victory – breaking a nervous Bartoli four times – in her sixth Wimbledon final 2008

Venus Williams USA bt
Serena Williams USA
7-5, 6-4

● Star Showing:
The Williams sisters in the final once more, with Venus triumphing and sealing her second Wimbledon title in a row – her fifth overall

The Williams sisters have dominated the last decade at Wimbledon. Can they keep it in the family?

