Moon

Director: Duncan Jones

Starring: Sam Rockwell and Kevin Spacey as the computer voice

The debut from director Jones – David Bowie’s son – is a haunting sci-fi tale which harkens to the fundamentals of the genre, in which ideas matter more than effects.

Rockwell stars as Sam Bell, an astronaut in a station on the far side of the moon with only a computer called Gerty (Spacey) for company.

Things deteriorate when another version of Sam arrives – is it a clone or a figment of Sam’s imagination?
