

Wednesday, July 22

ON THIS DAY

▲ 2007: Irish golfer Padraig Harrington won the British Open, and went on to retain his title in 2008

1847: Brigham Young led his Mormon followers to the site of Salt Lake City

1899: King Sobhuza II of Swaziland was born; he reigned for 61 years from 1921 until his death in 1982

1917: Alexander Kerensky became prime minister of Russia, taking over from Prince Georgy Lvov

2004: The independent U.S. commission investigating the 9/11 terrorist attacks delivered its final report, which was sharply critical of U.S. government agencies