

Asian megacities most at risk from climate change

Dhaka, Jakarta and Manila are among the major cities in Asia most at risk from climate change factors such as violent storms and rising seas, according to a report by the environmental group WWF

CITY RANKING ⑨ Overall vulnerability ■ Exposure to climate change
■ Impact on population / economy ■ Ability to adapt to climate change*

