

Italy train derailment

At least seven people have been killed and a number of others injured after a landslide derailed a regional train in northern Italy. The accident occurred at around 07:00GMT near the town of Merano

