

New Russian module for ISS

Space shuttle Atlantis will launch on its final scheduled mission to the International Space Station, carrying as its primary payload the Russian-built Mini-Research Module 1 (MRM1) – also known as Rassvet – which will be used for cargo storage and as a docking port for visiting spacecraft

RUSSIAN SEGMENT OF ISS

Soyuz, Progress or ATV

Zvezda Service module

Pirs: Docking module due to be jettisoned on arrival of MLM (Nauka) module in Dec 2011

Soyuz or Progress

MRM2 (Poisk)
Delivered Nov 2009

Zarya

Soyuz or Progress

U.S. / EUROPEAN / JAPANESE MODULES

MRM1 (Rassvet)

Soyuz or Progress

Station truss segments and solar arrays not shown

Source: NASA