

Competitors at 63rd Cannes Film Festival

Sunday's awards ceremony will determine which of the 18 movies in the Main Competition will take away the prestigious Palme d'Or at Cannes. Front-runners include French religious drama Of Gods and Men, American political thriller Fair Game, and British director Mike Leigh's Another Year

Films in competition (Above) Of Gods and Men, Fair Game, Another Year

On Tour	France	Mathieu Amalric
Of Gods and Men	France	Xavier Beauvois
Outside of the Law	Algeria	Rachid Bouchareb
Biutiful	Mexico	Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu
A Screaming Man	Chad	Mahamat-Saleh Haroun
The Housemaid	South Korea	Im Sang-soo
Certified Copy	Iran	Abbas Kiarostami
Outrage	Japan	Takeshi Kitano
Poetry	South Korea	Lee Chang-dong
Another Year	Britain	Mike Leigh
Fair Game	United States	Doug Liman
My Joy	Ukraine	Sergei Loznitsa
Our Life	Italy	Daniele Luchetti
Burnt by the Sun 2: Exodus	Russia	Nikita Mikhalkov
Tender Son – The Frankenstein Project	Hungary	Kornel Mundruczo
The Princess of Montpensier	France	Bertrand Tavernier
Chongqing Blues	China	Wang Xiaoshuai
Uncle Boonmee Who Can Recall his Past Lives	Thailand	Apichatpong Weerasethakul